TO THE LADIES!

Blankets, Blankets!

In our extremity we call upon the Ladies!

Our brave Soldiers are suffering for BLANKETS. Thousands at the call of their country, and in the hour of their need, are rushing to the field. They have no blankets to protect them. Who will not spare the soldier a blanket? Patriotism and humanity demands some sacrifices of all. The State cannot meet the necessities of our troops. Then hasten to the relief of your husbands, sons and brothers!

I will pay a good price for blankets. Bring in immediately all you can to
